

Slovak Field Days 8. June - 9. June 2021

Slovak Field Days is an event at a highly professional level, where land managers, farmers, food producers, sellers of agricultural machinery, sellers of plant protection products, exhibitors of livestock, some scientists and national, professional and advisory organizations, present their work.

National agricultural and food centre, the EJP SOIL project team, presented the current EJP SOIL project as an opportunity for efficient and modern land management in Slovakia. We discussed with the participants about the project priorities, the planned project activities in the field of sustainable management. We communicated with stakeholders from practice, what are their needs and requirements. We presented our own bred varieties. With quality, gentle tillage, we can produce the required quality.
